NOTES.

We record with regret the death from pneumonia on February 20 at the age of 47 of Dr. Arthur Henry Pierce, for the past fourteen years professor of psychology at Smith College. Dr. Pierce was a graduate of Amherst (1888), took his M.A. (1892) and his Ph.D. (1899) at Harvard, and also studied at the universities of Berlin, Strassburg and Paris (1894-1897). He was the first incumbent of the Kellogg University Fellowship (Amherst), which he held from 1894 to 1900. His chief work, Studies in Auditory and Visual Space Perception, was published in 1901. Among his other publications the most celebrated is his "Appeal from the Prevailing Doctrine of a Detached Subconsciousness," which appeared in the Garman memorial volume in 1906. He was for three years secretary of the American Psychological Association (1908-1910) and for three years thereafter a member of its Council. During the past four years he edited the Psychological Bulletin. He leaves the memory of an inspiring teacher, a sane and conscientious investigator, an efficient and tactful administrator and, above all, a fine and generous personality.

Professor George Stuart Fullerton has closed his lectures as exchange professor from Columbia University to the universities of Austria. At the end of the final lecture at the University of Vienna, it was announced by the Dean that Professor Fullerton had been elected an honorary professor of the philosophical Faculty of that University. This appointment carries with it the permanent right to deliver lectures at Vienna.

The annual meeting of the Western Philosophical Association was held at the University of Chicago on April 9 and 10. Professor B. H. Bode delivered the presidential address on "The Psychological Doctrine of Focus and Margin," which will appear in the July number of this REVIEW. One session was devoted to a discussion of the Neo-Realistic doctrine of Relations. Another discussion, led by Professor Fite, was concerned with the subject of Natural Rights. At the same time there took place a meeting of the Conference on Legal and Social Philosophy. The two societies met in joint session for the discussion of "Rule versus Discretion."

It has been decided that the next meeting of the American Philosophical Association will be held at Chicago during the last week of December.

Professor E. C. Wilm, of Wells College, will next year have charge of the departments of philosophy and psychology at Bryn Mawr, during the absence of Professors Leuba and de Laguna.
